

Fondazione studio museo Vico Magistretti

Fondazione studio museo Vico Magistretti is based in the studio where Magistretti worked throughout his lifetime: in the center of Milan, facing the Conservatory of Music, next to the beautiful Santa Maria della Passione church.

The studio is now a museum that narrates – through the projects of the architect-designer, his objects, the spaces where he unleashed his creativity, the views of the city from the windows – chapters of design culture, stories of innovation, tradition and production.

Those who enter the studio today immediately “meet” Magistretti (in a video montage of several interviews done during the last decade of his career), who talks about himself in a sort of familiar and professional autobiography. He speaks about his own Milano, where he was born and where he lived, he speaks about friends, colleagues, about his idea of design, about his rich relationships with the companies he has worked with over decades of extraordinarily intense project activities.

The foundation was set up in 2010 and works to safeguard the archive and with it Vico Magistretti’s work; the founding members and supporters of the activities of the studio museum are Triennale Design Museum, Artemide, De Padova, Flou, Schiffrini and Oluce.

Fondazione studio museo Vico Magistretti houses design and architecture exhibitions and organises guided tours, talks and meetings on the exhibitions themes as well as workshops and educational activities for schools.
